

Anthony Rossi is the VP, Global Business Development for Loop (TerraCycle company), a global platform that enables consumer product companies and retailers to shift from a disposable supply chain to a durable one.

Anthony has been with Loop since its inception and with Loop's parent company, TerraCycle, for 7-years. Tony and his team are the first point of contact with brands and retailers interested in partnering with Loop and Anthony works with these stakeholders to get their products into the Loop platform.

Before leading the global business development team for Loop, Anthony was the head of global business development for TerraCycle supporting the company's growth in 21 markets around the world.

Prior to joining TerraCycle, Anthony earned his business development stripes working in Toronto, Dijon, Budapest, and Vienna for some of the world's largest professional service firms and financial institutions.
